Plane Crash in Moscow Fatal to 30 Persons

By REINHOLD ENIS

MOSCOW (AP) — A four engine Austrian airliner crashed in fog and rain near Moscow airport Monday night. An Austrian Embassy spokesman said 30 of the 37 persons aboard died in the fiery wreckage.

All seven survivors were reported injured.

They included two attaches at the U.S. Embassy here — Air Force Maj. Edward Wooten of Wilmington, N. C., and Army Maj. Willis H. Knipe of Kokomo, Ind.

Austrian airline officials in Vienna said three of the dead probably were Americans. They were identified as Miss M. L. Simone, Pan American World Airlines employee, and a Mr. and Mrs. Gaudin, who flew to Europe from Los Angeles.

The Austrian spokesman said one of the plane's four engines apparently caught fire during the approach to the airport. The airliner fell into a wooded area west of the airport, leaving a 400-yard gash in the field before coming to halt.

It immediately burst into flames, burning at least 25 of the victims.

Officials here were unable immediately to identify all the victims because they had not received a passenger list from Vienna.

One of those who died was identified as Squadron Leader L. G. Cooke, air attaché at the British Embassy here.

Other victims included two Austrian government officials flying here for trade talks and 10 or 11 Austrian workmen who were to recondition the Austrian Embassy.

Surviving the crash with Wooten and Knipe were Maria Wernli, an airline stewardess; Lt. Col. Paul Bertrand assistant French air attaché; and an Austrian citizen and two Russians.

Wooten's wife told newsmen after a visit to her husband in the hospital that he was "not too badly off." Knipe suffered burns.

The four attaches were returning from a tour that took them through the eastern Soviet Union, Japan, Hong Kong and back by way of Vienna.

Scouts Plan Annual Drive for Finances

Several area community leaders met at the First National Bank in Hope, to make plans for the annual Piney Woods District Boy Scout Finance Campaign.

According to George Brown, District Chairman, the campaign for funds is scheduled for October 18th. Brown said that he was confident that by that date hundreds of local citizens will rally to the support of Scouting in our various communities.

The Piney Woods District includes the geographical areas of Lafayette, Hempstead, Nevada, and the southern half of Howard County. More than 200 boys have enjoyed the privilege of Scouting in the Piney Woods area this past year. Brown reported that more than 5,000 boys are presently available for Scouting in the area. He announced that many Committee Campaign Leadership spots have already been filled.

Those on Scouting teams by communities include—

Don Coulter and Williams Hughes, both of Nashville.

Prescott reports that John Teeter, J. R. Bomis, Adam Guthrie and Buck Reynolds are developing that communities organization.

Leaders in Lewisville include Buck Baker, J. C. Landes, Mack Lester and Don McLaughlin.

Others assuming key leadership roles are Tom Harris, Stamps and Richard Bishop, Bradley.

Brown urges all out support of the forthcoming campaign. "Remember," he said, "when you help a boy, you build a man."

Candidates in First Debate Before Nation

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

CHICAGO (AP) — The 1960 presidential campaign gained momentum today from a history-making face-to-face clash of the rival candidates for the presidency. Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy opened up over their differences on farm school housing, medical care for the elderly and other issues Monday night before a huge television-radio audience.

The question of the Roman Catholic faith of Sen. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, never once came up as they debated who can provide the better leadership in the competition with communism.

Kennedy's religion, while never raised by Nixon, his Republican opponent, is considered by most observers to be a major factor in the campaign, along with the civil rights issue.

And while Nixon didn't mention civil rights, either, Kennedy called it "a national responsibility," when a Negro baby, or a Puerto Rican or Mexican in this country "has about half as much chance getting through high school as a white baby."

Nixon hammered away on the argument that his Republican programs will move America forward "on the wonderful record we have made over the past 7 1/2 years."

On the other hand, Nixon said, health, education, housing, farm, elderly medical care, and other proposals advanced by Kennedy, would boost federal spending by anywhere from $13.2 to $18 billion dollars.

They would, Nixon charged, "lead to stagnation of the motive power that we need in this country to get progress." Nixon said Republican proposals would increase federal spending from 2 to 4 1/2 billions.

Kennedy insisted his program can be included in a carefully drawn balanced budget. "If our economy is moving ahead,"

And so it went for an hour, with each candidate taking his turn in outlining his case, and answering questions from a panel of television reporters.

The program was carried by all the national television and radio networks—NBC, CBS and ABC, plus MBS radio network. Some individual stations made delayed telecasts and broadcasts of the debate. Television network officials estimated 65 to 75 million persons watched the telecast.

Seeks Way to Keep Top Minds

MEMPHIS (AP) — Southern educators today sought ways of encouraging their top students to remain in Southern graduate schools instead of leaving for schools in other areas.

Dr. Virgil Addison, dean of the Graduate School of the University of Arkansas, said the problem was magnified by the fact that many of the students do not return to the South.

"We need to get the point across that the South has some of the best graduate schools in the country," Addison said.

One suggestion was that the non-resident tuition charge be waived. This plan would enable a resident of one Southern state to study without fee in the university of another.

Addison is one of 60 educators attending the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities.

Danger That Nikita May Win Battle

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — One of the biggest dangers to the future of the United Nations is that Nikita Khrushchev can accomplish basically what he has set out to do without any necessity for reference to the will of the majority.

This is being discussed in the U.N. corridors in an atmosphere of deep concern.

The Soviet leader has made it as clear as possible that he is out to get Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold by one means or another.

His proposal to replace the office of secretary-general with a pre-paralyzed three-member presidium—with built-in veto power—can be looked upon more as a maneuver than as a proposal with any chance of reaching a formal vote.

But it is, in effect, a signal for all-out war by the Communist bloc against the secretary-general. The purpose is to make things so hot for Hammarskjold that he will feel his effectiveness at an end and see no choice but to resign.

Should this come about, Khrushchev will have accomplished his objective.

It would be next to impossible to get a new secretary-general who would be satisfactory to both East and West. The search could go on for months—perhaps even years.

Meanwhile, the office would remain vacant, and the peace-making functions of the office paralyzed.

That actually is Khrushchev's major objective.

It would leave the field open for Communist interference in future emergencies such as the one which has kept the Congo in an uproar since the beginning of July.

U.S. observers here give this interpretation of Khrushchev's aim: What he cannot control he will attempt to crush.

Khrushchev is aware that adoption of his proposal to change the structure as the secretariat is impossible.

A structural change such as he has suggested requires a two-thirds majority vote of the General Assembly. And the change in the charter would have to be ratified by two-thirds of the members including all five permanent members of the Security Council. There is no chance of that.

In fact Khrushchev has yet to put forward his suggestion in the form of a formal proposal. But he doesn't have to do that. All he has to do is continue to insist that he and the Communist bloc have no confidence in Hammarskjold.

If he does that long enough and consistently enough, then this historic session of the Assembly will be, as U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth has said, a complete washout.

Nasser Urges a New Try for Arms Talks; Dag Gains Support

U. S., Britain Fully Support UN Secretary

By JOHN SCALI

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan today pledged full support to United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in the face of Nikita Khrushchev's demands he be fired.

At the same time, the two free world leaders called on the 60-nation U.N. Assembly to buckle down to "serious, sober and constructive work" on international disarmament.

This appeared to be a plan to Khrushchev and his Communist allies to forsake further anti-Western propaganda attacks for the sake of serious efforts to ease East-West tensions.

Eisenhower and Macmillan, meeting to coordinate allied strategy, issued their joint declaration after a 2 1/2-hour meeting with their foreign policy chiefs.

An American spokesman stressed that Macmillan in no way sought to act as a mediator between Eisenhower and Khrushchev or to arrange a face to face meeting between the two cold war foes.

Eisenhower, pressing ahead with his campaign of quiet diplomacy, met with Macmillan at breakfast in his temporary White House headquarters on the 35th floor of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Afterward, he arranged to talk with top Ethiopian and Cambodian representatives in the next stage of his drive to woo neutral support for the Western side.

Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was to meet with the President this afternoon just before Eisenhower flies back to Washington.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerly summed up the Eisenhower-Macmillan parley at a news conference, saying in part:

"We therefore suggest," said the Arab leader, "that the General Assembly recommend that the two great leaders should, under the standard of the United Nations, meet either by themselves or together with whom you select among those who are present here, in order for them all to put under the eyes of the United Nations, guiding rules for a new attempt toward disarmament."

The Communist bloc also renewed its attack on the office of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, while outside the United Nations, President Eisenhower put forward strong efforts to rally formidable support behind the U.N. chief.

President Eisenhower met with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and White House press secretary James C. Hagerly pictured them "in complete agreement as to the vital role of the United Nations, particularly in the Congo crisis, and the need to give full support to the secretary-general in his tasks."

The Russians have suffered a diplomatic setback in the Congo crisis and have protested Hammarskjold's peace-making activities there.

Khrushchev arrived at the United Nations rosy and cheerful, despite indications his drive against the U.N. secretariat seemed to be winning little support outside his own bloc, even from the Yankee-hating Cuban delegation headed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Khrushchev waved and grinned at the Cuban leader when Castro arrived in the assembly hall to listen in on the renewed debate. Kicking off the renewed Communist bloc offensive against Hammarskjold, Romanian Communist boss Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej told the General Assembly the secretary-general, in the Congo, "acted, actually, as a spokesman of the colonialist policy."

"In its present structure, the general secretariat does not assure the objective implementation of the resolutions of the United Nations," said the first secretary of Romania's Communist party, third of the satellite Communist leaders to address the historic 15th General Assembly session.

Castro, in a 4 1/2-hour speech Monday night, went down the line in supporting most Soviet positions, although he remained silent.

Castro Talk Spurs Neutral Vote Fight

UNITED NATIONS BY
BY REILMAN MORIN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—
Fidel Castro's sledgehammer speech in the United Nations intensified the battle for neutral votes today as President Eisenhower wound up for the moment his whirlwind campaign in personal diplomacy.
Private conferences between world leaders committed and uncommitted in the East-West struggle hit a feverish pace.
Castro's speech was seen everybody else behind closed doors, in a gigantic political round robin.
Eisenhower's appointments included breakfast with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and his foreign secretary, Lord Home, at hourly intervals he was to confer with Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, and Akilou Abte Wold, deputy prime minister of Ethiopia. He also scheduled a talk with John G. Diefenbaker, prime minister of Canada.
One of the key neutralist leaders, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic has been one of the busiest participants in the off-stage maneuvering.
He talked with Eisenhower, President Tito of Yugoslavia, and Indian Prime Minister Nehru Monday night. Nasser said of the interview with Eisenhower: "I am looking forward to strengthening the good relations between the United Arab Republic and the United States."

Reporters tried to question Nehru after his meeting with the Arab leader, but all the Indian would say was: "There is no neutral bloc—only independent nations."
Then Nehru hastened across town for a dinner session with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.
The results of this feverish round of conferences, plus the speeches by Eisenhower, Khrushchev and other principals in the conflict, may be reflected very soon in the debate on a perennial and critical issue—admission of Red China to the U. N.

The Soviet Union has before the steering committee a proposal to seat the Communist Chinese. The United States is determined to block it. Here, in all probability, the effect on the neutralists and cover an area of more than 35, 000 square yards in a forest planted by the Germans 10 to 20 years ago.
Trybuna Ludu said investigators found bodies of Poles, Frenchmen, Belgians, Britons, Canadians, Dutchmen, Italians and Russians.

Nikita Would

BY MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—
Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today proposed that East-West disarmament talks be expanded to include five new nations from Asia, Africa and Latin America.
The Soviet proposal was contained in a resolution which would in effect bring the informal arms group under the United Nations aegis and open the way for a new round of private negotiations.
The previous group of five Western and five Soviet bloc countries was set up by private agreement of the big powers and later endorsed by the General Assembly.
It was not a U. N. organ, although it met at the U. N. European headquarters in Geneva.
The Soviet Union walked out of the Geneva talks last summer and announced it was bringing the whole arms issue to the assembly.

Dieting Woman Has a Baby

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A Memphis woman whose all-litid diet helped her lose nearly 250 pounds, 50 of it during pregnancy, is the mother of a 7-pound 5-ounce girl.
The child, delivered by Caesarean section Sunday night, is the first for Mrs. David Steel, 40, who has shrunk to less than half her former weight in 19 months.
"We know of no other example of pregnancy occurring under such rigid dieting and during such an extreme weight reduction," especially on the newly admitted nations of the past week's maneuvering may become clearly defined.

The steering committee debate on Communist China was to have started Monday night. It was postponed, apparently because of Castro's 4 1/2 hour speech which went on until nearly 8:30 p.m.
The speech seemed to make some impact on the newly admitted African delegates to the U. N. and to a lesser extent on the known neutralists.
It was the longest speech in the history of the General Assembly.
Yet the great hall was about three-quarters filled when Castro finished. Some delegates—Nehru among them—left during the speech but returned later to their places.
In short, Castro held his audience, and particularly the African and Latin American delegations.
The applause that frequently interrupted him was led by the Communists. But they were not the only ones clapping for Castro.

U. S. to Sell Crop to Get Penalty Cash

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A 71-year-old Mississippi cotton farmer won a federal judge's sympathy with his plea for a larger cotton acreage allotment, but the law requires that his crop be sold to pay a penalty for overplanting.
William R. Overton, action as his own attorney, Monday told District Judge Gordon E. Young
this story:
In 1958 a levee built by Army Engineers cut him off from part of his 120-acre farm. In 1954, the Engineers provided him access to the land across the levee, but his request for increased cotton acreage was denied because the law bases allotments on acreage planted in previous years.
Overton's 1959 allotment was Dead was Charles Fulton Ellis, 32. Mrs. Glenn Teague, 43, and

Red Demands 'Frivolous' Lodge Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge said today that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demands for reorganization of the United Nations are frivolous.

The Republican vice-presidential nominee made the comment during an impromptu news conference while getting a haircut. Lodge also described the Soviet proposals as "horseplay" and "pure demagoguery."

Khrushchev suggested that U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold be replaced by a three-man commission and that the U.N. headquarters be moved out of the United States.

Lodge, former ambassador to the United Nations, said Khrushchev's proposal, if carried out, would destroy the United Nations. He said the plan had absolutely no chance of realization.

Referring to Khrushchev's speech in the United Nations, Lodge said: "I was the only individual attacked by name in this speech. He mentioned me five times. I take that as some sort of compliment."

Divinity Student's Backers Heard From in Controversy

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

A despairing bride-to-be who was also a mother-to-be asked recently if she and her husband should await their baby's coming in their home town or go where no one would be conscious of any discrepancy in dates when it was born.

I advised them to have the child in a strange town. This advice drew fire in the form of a two-page letter from Everett Kennedy, a divinity student. He charged me with counseling others to give false testimony. "It is more holy to make a mistake and admit it," he declared, "than trying to bluff the world."

The young couple I say... do not face life with a lie. I promptly told him that by his sanctimonious attitude he would make a Hester Prynne of the poor girl and cast a permanent stigma upon an innocent, unborn baby.

I then dashed to their desks to open equally heated replies. And, con. Yesterday I published some of the pros, today the cons have the floor.

The Reverend Ernest Boyer of Monaca, Pennsylvania, thanks God for Everett Kennedy. "Remember," he warns, "there is a heaven and a hell. I pray that this couple will mind God's word (the Holy Bible)... Let's stand for truth God's way."

Mrs. F. Branksma, Bridgeview Survey, Hamilton, Ontario, writes: "I came across Mr. Everett Kennedy's answer to the young couple which trespassed the 7th Commandment. Our age and day is far too disobeisnt to the Lord's Laws. Sin is not sin any more. You write there is an unborn child involved."

"First of all, there is a Holy God involved. Lately nearly every commandment suffers. And finally we suffer too. Mr. Kennedy is right — this is an age of falsehood."

"Still after the young couple have confessed to God, our churches in the Netherlands (Holland) and our Reformed Churches in Canada too, the young couple then goes to the Consistory and says they are sorry they committed the sin against the 7th Commandment. Needless to say everybody is happy and the couple is married. But no festivities or feasting."

"Congratulations, Mr. Kennedy. The Saviour of the Church made you a good Under Shepherd. Keep your life pure."

Betty Lou Jefferson, 17, and a high school senior in Beaver, Pennsylvania, does not believe that "Man should hide his sin. Bring it to light," she advises. "and ask our God to understand and forgive."

"I know of friends who have been in the same position as the young couple mentioned. A few have done as you suggested: left town, then came back to take what they thought was a respectable place in the community. Others stayed, faced the people, stood up to the bigotry of the so-called 'Holy Untouchables' and weathered the storm of contempt. I ask you, which deserve the most forgiveness, those who left to save face, or those who withstood the wrath of society?"

A faithful Reader from Wilson, North Carolina, tells of her own experience in a similar situation: "In my case it worked out fine without going away," she says. "We were married at 16 and 17 and lived in our home town which is very small. We didn't make up any tales that we had been married secretly. No one ever had anything to say about it as far as we know. Maybe with others it wouldn't work, but with us it

U. S. Protests Halting of Ambassador

BONN, Germany (AP) — The United States protested to the Soviet Union today against the temporary halting of U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dooling as he sought to enter East Berlin last Thursday.

The U.S. Embassy said the protest was delivered orally in Berlin by Maj. Gen. Ralph M. Osborne, U.S. commander in Berlin. Osborne was seeking to get the Soviet Union to restrain East German police from halting American diplomats entering East Berlin.

Dooling last Thursday and told him diplomats not accredited to the East German government would not be allowed into East Berlin. Dooling replied he did not accept this ruling and produced a State Department pass. The Communist police then allowed Dooling's car to proceed.

The incident has had considerable repercussion, because the Western powers do not recognize the Communist East German regime. They have fired off three protests of different kinds to the Soviets about the East German squeeze on West Berlin. Some Western officials think Dooling should have refused to identify himself and insisted on talking to a Soviet officer.

We, the United States, have more rights and privileges than any other people in the world today. It's an awful shame that these privileges are not more appreciated. So many today do not take the time to vote, or go to church, or even stop long enough to give thanks for this great resourceful and democratic nation of ours. Think how fortunate we are now, but how very unfortunate it would be should all these freedoms ever be taken away. Imagine yourself living in a country which denied one the right to vote, attend church, express one's opinion, and all the other essential privileges of our everyday life. Certainly, it's a matter which deserves a great deal of thought once consideration.

Each has the right to express his opinions in regards to political and all other matters. Not only the men but also the women of all positions have the right to vote. Thus, the people of the nation elect the leaders. Representatives of the people are elected to sit in Congress and represent the voters. They act according to the wishes and desires of the people in regards to the passing or making of new laws.

This great piece of work has so set up the government that it is made up of three different branches; the judicial, legislative and executive. The constitution forbids any man to hold both an executive or judicial office and a seat in Congress. As a result each branch is administered by different people. Thus removing the ever present threat of one man gaining too much power. To prevent any branch of the federal government from overstepping its powers the Constitution sets up an elaborate system of "checks and balances" whereby each turned out fine. "I am afraid I agree with the Minister. I wish he would let me know if I should tell my oldest child the situation. I would hate for someone else to tell her."

No Woman Killed, Say Officers

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (AP) — A fugitive from the Texas prison, Texas didn't kill a woman here, Sheriff Harry K. Walker found, but the man and his companion are wanted for a kidnap.

Warren Golden, 25, of Langley, Ark., told officers in Danvers, Mass., that he had killed Joyce Baker, 17, here last Wednesday. But police found her Monday visiting friends in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Walker said, however, that he has armed robbery warrants for Golden and James Hayes, 27, of Texarkana, Ark., and hopes to bring them here this week from Danvers. They were arrested there while sleeping in a stolen car.

Walker said the men are accused of slugging Charles Sutton, an 80-year-old filling station attendant near here, and robbing him of $75 to $80 last Thursday.

Mrs. Baker and another Huntington girl had testified against Golden and Hayes on white slave charges on which the men were sentenced two years ago in Baker, Calif., the sheriff said.

At Texarkana, prison officials said Hayes and Golden walked away from a work detail Sept. 10. Hayes was serving 30 months on a federal car theft charge and Golden was serving five years for white slavery.

The men told Danvers police they had stolen a car in Texarkana and abandoned it in Indiana.

Life for Slayer of Arkansas Child

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Robert Kenneth Ervin, convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of 6-year-old Dolores Ann Starnett, will spend the rest of his life in prison under terms of a life sentence.

District Judge George Marshall Monday formally sentenced the 21-year-old cook to life imprisonment without possibility of parole. This sentence had been recommended by the jury which convicted Ervin Sunday.

Ervin's court-appointed attorneys said no appeal was planned. The girl, whose parents now live in Fort Smith, Ark., was found dead July 6, 1959, in the attic of Ervin's home. The parents then were neighbors of Ervin's.

Porkers Work for Game Against TCU

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The University of Arkansas Razorbacks today began the tough task of preparing for the Southwest Conference opener against Texas Christian Saturday night in Fort Worth.

The Porkers went through a light drill Monday, then heard a scouting report on the Horned Frogs. Coach Frank Broyles termed TCU "a much improved team," noting that they came back from a 21-7 shellacking by Kansas to edge Southern California 7-6.

Broyles said blocking assignments will be stressed this week because "a lot of mistakes are still being made in the line."

He also said that the 180 yards Arkansas gained on the ground in whipping Tulsa 48-7 Saturday was not good enough.

AMERICA AFLOAT

SAFE BOATING WEEK MEANS WHAT IT SAYS By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN Editor, Popular Boating (Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Boating is safe if only the effort of every boatman is going to keep it that way. More pleasure craft than have ever been afloat before will take to the water the week ending July 9.

President Eisenhower has stated: "I invite all the people interested in boating to observe National Safe Boating Week."

"I urge them during this week and throughout the entire year to follow safe boating practices and to exercise courtesy on the waterways."

No one knows how many boats there are in America today. The National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers estimates seven million and this number is growing.

Accidents have not increased with the growth of the sport.

Boats are becoming safer. As more knowledge of what makes a hull strong and seaworthy is designed into boats, families head out farther afloat.

Electronic aids — portable radio, depth sounder, direction finder and radio telephone — can now fit into any craft from a rowboat up. Weather warnings, water depth and direction of land are presented by these gadgets to the pleasure skipper.

If still in trouble he can call for help by radio.

Better craft and more leisure time have successfully transformed boating from a form of roughing it to a family activity. Boats are better. It is important that skippers improve.

When accidents happen, they must now be reported. Soon we should have statistics which will show when trouble is likely to occur.

The most dangerous thing a boatman can do is head out by himself in a small boat.

The next tip is not clear, but apparently he stands up quickly to land a fish, reaches too far over the side, or perhaps just anchors where the wake from a passing vessel might tip him over.

Only the boat is found for him and called this "a rude flouting" may have tried to swim to the United Nations.

Battle Is on for Leftovers of Both Loops

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees clutch the flags, but the races aren't over yet. In the majors, not with eight clubs scrambling for the left overs.

While the Pirates, still aglow after winning their first National League pennant in 33 years, were idle Monday, the Yanks, American League champs for the 10th time in a dozen years under Manager Casey Stengel, kept humming with a 4-2 victory at Washington in 10 innings.

It was the 10th straight success for the Yankees, the longest of the year in the majors and the champs' best string since 1938, when they also won 10 in a row.

The races for a chunk of World Series cash, split among the first division clubs in each league, centered around Milwaukee-St. Louis and Los Angeles-San Francisco in the NL, and the Chicago-Baltimore and Cleveland-Washington in the AL.

Chicago's White Sox, battling to keep intact manager Al Lopez' record of never having finished lower than second, pulled into a second-place tie with idle Baltimore by beating Detroit 6-3. Cleveland lost 6-1 at Kansas City, but retained a 1½-game edge over Washington for fourth place.

Milwaukee and St. Louis were idle, leaving the Braves a half-game in front of the Cards. San Francisco moved within 2½ games of fourth-place Los Angeles by beating the Dodgers 6-2 in the only NL game scheduled.

The Yankees, keeping the remaining races "honest," started most of their regulars at Washington, but finished by using 20 players. They had to bounce back with two runs in the 10th inning for the majors' longest streak since Kansas City won 11 in a row last season.

A pinch single by Hector Lopez broke up a 2-2 tie, after a double by Bob Cerv and a walk. Dale Long, who homered in the second inning, capped the rally with a single off loser Pedro Ramos (11-17). Duke Maas (3-1) was the winner in relief of rookie Bill Stafford, who gave up Harmon Killebrew's 31st home run, a tying, two-run shot in the seventh.

Minnie Minoso was 3-for-3, belted his 20th home run and drove in two runs along with Luis Aparicio, as the White Sox beat Bill Fischer (8-9). Frank Baumann was the winner for a 13-6 record.

Southpaw Bud Daley (18-15) beat Cleveland with a four-hitter — his first victory over the Indians this season — while the A's backed him with 14 hits, one a homer by Pete Daley. Dick Sligman (5-11) was the loser.

The Gaits, shut out on three hits for seven innings, scored all their runs in the eighth, three on Don Blasingame's triple. That beat Don Drysdale (14-14), who had won seven in a row at the Coliseum. Mike McCormick (14-12) was the winner.

Letts Takes Over at Union Monitor

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Dist Judge F. Dickinson Letts today won in Terence F. McShane as chairman of the board of monitors over the Teamsters Union.

Letts brushed aside objections from Teamsters President James R. Hoffa that McShane, a former FBI agent, is prejudiced.

While with the FBI, McShane investigated Hoffa's affairs for the government.

The monitors board is a court-appointed body of three given the duty of supervising a cleanup of the Teamsters Union.

McShane succeeds Martin F. Donoghue, who resigned.

Hoffa said the union would take to the U.S. Court of Appeals a challenge of the McShane appointment.

Youth Flees From Gravette Hospital

GRAVETTE, Ark. (AP) — A 21-year-old Tulsa youth fled from a Gravette hospital in a bawdy Sunday night after being arrested in connection with a fatal auto wreck in Missouri.

Sought was Tyrone James Elias. The McDonald County, Mo., sheriff's office said he was driving a souped-up car that went out of control and crashed into a tree near Linagan, Mo., Sunday, killing Francis Randall, 16, of Noel, a passenger.

Randall, Elias and a third youth, Thomas Shockley, 16, of Noel, were taken to a Neosho, Mo., hospital, where Elias was placed under arrest.

He was taken to the sheriff's office at Pineville, where he complained of being ill. Then he was transferred to the hospital at Gravette.

Hospital authorities said he went out a window of the hospital wearing only a hospital gown.

Rights Group on Florida Ballot

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The National States Rights party today apparently won a place on Florida's general election ballot for its presidential candidate, Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas.

New petitions filed with the secretary of state's office carried 1,251 signatures to make an unofficial total of 8,358. Florida law requires 7,500.

In Florida, the Citizens Council and other extreme segregationist groups have been active in the move for Faubus.

HEALTH HINTS

By DR. CHARLES JOHNSON "CHIROPRACTOR"

Nervous Tension and Chronic Worry

"Relax and quit worrying, it's just your nerves," is not very helpful advice to a nervous sick person. "Such individuals need help for they are really sick and their sickness does have a cause."

The problem is one of deep seated and constant nervous tension caused by an irritation of the nerve roots leading from the spine. Though nothing may seem wrong organically the proper X-rays and other tests will reveal this condition when a scientific Chiropractor makes an examination.

Only when the cause of this irritation is removed can a person relax and quit worrying. Until then, the individual is sick, mentally and physically. Such illness will eventually lead to real organic disturbance in most cases. Nature is constantly making an effort to relieve this pressure and sometimes through a prolonged rest or change of climate does accomplish it. Shock or other severe reaction may rarely bring about a change for the better.

The most efficient and satisfactory way is to have a thorough examination by a Chiropractor who is experienced in making spinal corrections.
